The Temptation of Jesus

Today's gospel passage, Matthew 4.1-11 follows on from Matthew's account of the Baptism of Jesus and describes how Jesus was led by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil. The period of temptation was 40 days during which time Jesus fasted. The temptations including being offered loaves of bread, and all the kingdoms of the world in exchange for worshipping the devil. Jesus's reply was robust: 'Away with you Satan!', 'Worship the Lord your God and serve only him.' The devil departed, angels came to wait upon Jesus and in Matthew's account, Jesus's ministry in Galilee followed.

There are echoes of a range of Old Testament passages in Matthew's account, for example, Exodus 24.18, Moses entered the cloud and went up to the mountain where he stayed for 40 days and nights, and Deuteronomy 8.3 'one does not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of the Lord.' One view of this passage is that Matthew has taken the very brief account in Mark's gospel (1.12-13) and expanded it into a meditation weaving together a series of Old Testament texts and themes.

The first reading, Genesis 2.15-17, 3.1-7, carries the sub-title in the NRSV bible, The First Sin and its Punishment; the serpent tricks the woman and she and her husband ate the forbidden fruit, the fruit of the tree in the garden.

The second reading, Romans 5.12-19, compares Adam and Christ: 'Therefore just as one man's trespass led to condemnation for all, so one man's act of righteousness leads to justification for all. For just as by the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners, so by one man's obedience the many will be made righteous ...' (v18).

The prayer after communion for the 1st Sunday of Lent links together the eucharistic bread and the temptation in the wilderness, echoing the rebuke Jesus gave to Satan who challenged him to turn stones into bread (vv2-4):

Lord God, you have renewed us with the living bread from heaven; by it you nourish our faith, increase our hope, and strengthen our love: teach us always to hunger for him who is the true and living bread, and enable us to live by every word that proceeds from out of your mouth; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Worship

February/March Celebrants and preachers are: 22 February, The Revd Dr Jennifer Brown; 1 March The Revd Rosalind Rutherford.

There are two commemorations this week: Monday: Polycarp, bishop of martyr, 155; Friday: George Herbert, priest, poet, 1633. Wednesday, Friday and Saturday are Ember Days.

Ember Days Days of prayer for those to be ordained deacon or priest, have traditionally been observed on the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays at various points in the year. The Collect:

Almighty God, you have entrusted to your Church a share in the ministry of your Son our great high priest: inspire by your Holy Spirit the hearts of many to offer themselves for the ministry of your Church, that strengthened by his power, they may work for the increase of your kingdom and forward the eternal praise of your name; through Jesus Christ ... Amen.

These are days too to pray for theological colleges, their staff and students, and theological educators in general; not least those in these categories in our parish.

Lent When baptisms were conducted mainly at Easter, Lent was a season of preparation by the candidates, or catechumens, a period in which they were taught the basics of the Christian Faith, followed in Easter week by teaching about the eucharist and other sacraments.

St Cyril of Jerusalem is one of the early Church Fathers who delivered a series of lectures during Easter week to the newly baptised, the "Mystagogical Catecheses" (Lectures on the Mysteries), the text of which has survived.

For whatever reason, this put me in mind of the Church of England Catechism (BCP) that readers may have learnt as part of their confirmation classes. Described as "An Instruction to be learned of every person before he be brought to be Confirmed by the Bishop", it takes the form of a series of questions and answers, starting with "What is your name ...", "Who gave you this name ...". A catechism for children first appeared in the Prayer Book of 1549 as part of the Confirmation section. A key feature of the catechism is that it was set in a liturgical context. The questions included the Apostles Creed, Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer, the choice of topics being attributed to Luther. Glossing over a lot of detail, other catechisms followed, expanding this basic structure. The catechism in the Book of Common Prayer 1662 includes a section on the sacraments, for example, and the rubrics required that "The Curate of every Parish shall diligently upon Sundays and Holy-days, after the second Lesson at Evening Prayer, openly in the Church instruct and examine so many Children of his Parish sent unto him, as he shall think convenient, in some part of this Catechism." One special feature of the BCP Catechism is that it is set in the context of the liturgy, a reminder that the Catechism isn't just a set text to be learnt but the starting point for a relationship with God that evolves and develops throughout life.

Jumping ahead, in the 1970s, the Roman Catholic Church introduced the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults, a four-stage process starting with an initial exploration of Christian faith; the catechumenate, a period of study of teaching, prayer and Christian life; an intense period of preparation (during Lent), preceding baptism at the Easter Vigil; and a final post-baptism reflection on the sacraments. A Catechism of the Catholic Church was published in 1994; a much longer document. There are examples too in the Orthodox tradition.

The Church of England Catechism was revised in 1982 by General Synod, and a set of headings was introduced: The Call of God, the Christian Answer; Christian Belief, The Church and Ministry, Christian Obedience, The Holy Spirit in the Church, The Christian Hope. This is available on-line.

Bishop Steven wrote an interesting article in 2017 entitled A very short history of catechesis, see <https://blogs.oxford.anglican.org/short-history-catechesis/> written to mark the publication of The Pilgrim Way, "a contemporary summary of the essentials of Christian Faith for enquirers." This was the result of work commissioned by the House of Bishops in 2012.

Perhaps Lent is an appropriate time to remind oneself of the basics.

Discovering Jesus in the Eucharist this Lent From diocesan eNews, 12 February.

"Come and See is the Diocese of Oxford's free online experience that allows people to explore spirituality and find out more about the Christian faith. This Lent, join Bishop Steven as we delve into the Eucharist, or Holy Communion. Everyone who registers receives a short daily email to reflect on (also available as a podcast), and a weekly video from Bishop Steven exploring the theme in a bit more detail. There are intergenerational activities each Sunday, so you can do it together as a family too. You can sign up now to receive the daily emails, and check in with your local parish, to see if they're running Come and See in their services, in small groups or in another way."

For more details and the link to sign up to register to receive the daily emails is TAB and Tariro As announced in the notices last Sunday, Fr Nicolas CR has kindly sent copies of a newly-published TARIRO publicity brochure. These are available on the literature table by the south porch in the literature holder nearest The Bookstall. They are in landscape format so inserted sideways in the portrait format holder. Do please take one and use during Lent. Fr Nicolas when speaking about TARIRO always recounts the stories of a few of the children and young adults and how TARIRO has impacted their lives, leading to qualifications, jobs and starting their own companies. When the TAB staff talk about TAB at the AGM they too focus on the impact TAB has made. Although we do not know the TARIRO children and adults personally, we can perhaps use the photographs in the brochure as a focus for prayer. There is a lot of information on the TAB web site that could also be used in this way. For more information about the two charities, see their web sites: <https://www.theabingdonbridge.org.uk/> and <https://tarirouk.com/>.

Here are a few suggestions for prayer, lightly revised from suggestions made last year.

future.
Lord in mercy, hear our prayer.

Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good, his mercy endures for ever. (Psalm 136)

During another Season of Vacancies

The prayer below is the prayer used for the appointment of a new Archbishop of Canterbury. But it is not entirely inappropriate in the current situation as the next stage of ministry in the parish of Abingdon is discerned.

Heavenly Father, shepherd of your Church, send us a faithful pastor to lead with wisdom, courage, and love,
proclaiming your Gospel, celebrating the sacraments,
and guiding your people in unity and truth.

Strengthen your Church, we pray, and direct us in your ways; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

The Church of St Mary Magdalen, Oxford, is in an interregnum at this time, though the appointment of a new Vicar, Dr Jonathan Lewis-Jong (a curate at St Mary Magdalen's 10 years ago) has just been announced. This prayer, slightly adapted to our situation, appeared in their Parish Newsletter last month.

O God, who alone guides and guards the Church by your Spirit. Strengthen and encourage us in this time of uncertainty and opportunity, and inspire those who maintain our worship, and those engaged in the discernment and selection of a new Team Vicar.

We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

A prayer for the appointment of a new Bishop of Oxford to succeed Bishop Stephen when he retires later this year.

Almighty God, giver of every good gift:

Look graciously on your Church and illuminate our path as we seek a new Bishop.

Help us to work together for the good of your kingdom and all who live, work and study in the Diocese of Oxford.

Give wisdom and listening hearts to those who have influence.

Send out your Holy Spirit to call one who will faithfully teach, pastor, care for and equip us;
through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Prayers for the Peace of the World

A prayer from the Church of England:

Almighty God,

from whom all thoughts of truth and peace proceed:

kindle, we pray, in the hearts of all, the true love of peace and guide with your pure and peaceable wisdom
those who take counsel for the nations of the earth that in tranquillity your kingdom may go forward, till the earth is filled with the knowledge of your love;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, ...

Please pray for:

- Sarah, Archbishop of Canterbury and Stephen, Archbishop of York;
- Steven (preparing for retirement) and Gavin our bishops in this diocese; for the Vacancy In See Committee;
- His Majesty King Charles, Her Majesty Queen Camilla, and all the royal family;
- all victims of war, injustice, and oppression; Gaza, Iran, Sudan, Ukraine;
- those training for ministry in the church, the staff of theological colleges and all theological educators;
- victims of domestic abuse and support organizations;
- the suffering, especially those who are known to us and who are on our prayer list;
- all who have recently departed, and all whose year's mind falls at this time;
- people living in: St. Helen's Mill, St. Helen's Walk, St. Helen's Wharf and St. Michael's Avenue.
